

English: This week we are going to be writing a poem about mini-beasts. Today we would like you to read a selection of poems or ask an adult to read them with you and then be poem bug detectives!

How many different mini-beasts can you find in the poem? Have you detected some great adjectives you might be able to use in your poem later in the week? What about those verbs and adverbs, see how many you can spot.

Record them in the boxes below.

Challenge what other information can you find? Maybe some microhabitats (places they live).
