

Using your adjectives from yesterday’s English work, can you improve your sentences using commas? Commas can be used to form a list. We can use adjectives in a list to improve our sentences, making them more interesting for our readers. This means instead of using just one adjective in our sentence, we can use more than one to make our writing more descriptive, which helps give our readers a clear picture of what we are describing.

The castle is big.

The castle is huge, strong and safe.
